SWEL AB has during the years 2004-2005 supplied all the electrical equipment to the Southwest Wastewater Treatment Plant in St. Petersburg, Russia. As well as supplying many kilometres of cables, SWEL AB also supplied lighting masts, cable ladders, lighting fittings etc.

A plant, treating 330 000m³ wastewater from about 700 000 people, requires top quality electrical equipment and the assignment put great demands on logistics, security, and a well-functioning supply system. SWEL AB had full control of the goods from the manufacturer to the site and carried out its task with excellence.

We would highly recommend and gladly use SWEL AB again for similar projects.
